

Kellas-Slocum Hall

The current Kellas Hall was built in 1957 by the college. Named for the first president of Russell Sage College, Eliza Kellas, it is the home for first year students on the Troy campus. The original Kellas Hall was located where the present Kay's Garden is. The first floor houses the Wellness Center; residents live on the first, second, and third floors.

Albany Campus Residence Hall

Residence halls are more than just places to live! Sage believes that residence halls should be active living/learning centers that complement the academic programs of the College.

First year students on the Albany Campus live in the Albany Campus Residence Hall (ACRH). Their room assignments are made by the Residence Life staff.
